

Do you have a vision to promote Christian discipleship that combines growth in personal spirituality with a passion for evangelistic mission?

Inspire Project Development Officer

(Half time, fixed term to August 2011 with possible extension to August 2014)

Lay salary: £26,577 per annum pro rata

For Presbyters and Deacons of the Methodist Church, the usual terms and conditions apply.

Inspire is an emerging network of people who are committed to the growth of mission spirituality in the leadership and life of the church. The movement can be viewed as a contemporary adaptation of the Wesleyan commitment to discipleship that is essentially missionary in nature.

The successful candidate will join a team who are pioneering the work of Inspire within the Methodist Church and beyond. This role will focus on the development of leadership mentoring within the movement and maximising the impact of the network in the local church.

The Development Officer is expected to embrace fully the ethos of the Methodist Church, but is not required to be in formal membership. This is a home based post and will involve travelling across the UK.

Closing date for applications: Monday 15 February 2010 (12.00 noon).
Interviews to be held on Wednesday 17th March 2010.
