

Trustees of the Methodist Ministers' Pension Scheme (MMPS)

MMPS is a defined benefit occupational pension scheme with 4,500 members and assets of approximately £265m. The assets are kept separate from those of other Church funds.

MMPS is administered by a corporate trustee appointed by the Methodist Conference. There is a Trustee Board which has nine directors, five of whom are lay persons nominated by the Methodist Council and approved by the Methodist Conference. Two of the lay directors are retiring on 31 August 2010 and we are seeking suitable replacements.

The responsibilities of the Board of Directors of MMPS include:

- To administer MMPS in accordance with its rules and governing legislation
- To take advice from the actuaries, investment managers, lawyers and auditors
- To carry out an annual review of the funding position in conjunction with the actuaries
- To decide on the investment principles, to set the investment strategy and to monitor the performance of the investment manager
- To manage risks and keep under review internal controls and procedures

Applicants should have experience in one or more of the following areas: actuarial, pensions, investments and finance.

Board Meetings are held quarterly in London. Board members are unpaid but travel expenses are reimbursed.

More information about the role can be obtained from the Secretary to the Trustees whose contact details are below.
